Ganesh clay idols are also installed by schools and schools. Vinayaka Chaturthi is a holiday? Ganesh Chaturthi is not a holiday all over India. It is a regional feast that is held only in certain states such as Maharashtra, Gujarat, Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh. Even in these states, it is not mandatory for an employer to declare the Ganesha Festival as a vacation. Ganesh Chaturthi/Chavithi is celebrated with great pomp and show in Maharashtra, Gujarat, Goa and Karnataka. Other states that celebrate this festival are: Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Tamil Nadu, Odisha, Delhi and Punjab. List of Trade Vacation 2022 List of BSE 2022 NSE Holiday List 2022 MCX Holiday List 2022 What rituals are observed for Vinayaka Chaturthi? Although the festival is the same and has similar connotations throughout India, each region has slight variations in rituals and traditions. The celebrations last between 7 and 10 days in different places. Some common observances are: Installation of the statue of Ganapati: a statue of the elephant God is installed on a pedestal, either at home or in a public place with a pranprathishtha puja. Without looking at the moon: the first night of the festival, people avoid looking at the moon because it is considered a bad omen. Prayers: the washing of the statue; the puja with the singing of shlokas and offerings of flowers and sweets; and Aarti, that is, the circumlocution of the idol with a plaque full of a lamp of illuminated earth/metal, kumkum and flowers. The prayer meetings are also held in the temples of Ganapati and public facilities every day at night and in some places, also in the mornings. Special performances: some Lord Ganesh public facilities could also have dance, music and parody performances. Make and eat Modak: Modak is believed to be the sweet favorite of Ganapati.These albós are made and distributed as Prasad during festival. Other food items such as laddoo, barfi, pedha, and sundal are also distributed during this time. Visarjan: This is the immersion of the idol in a water body and is conducted on the last day ¢ÃÂÂ anywhere between the seventh and eleventh days ¢ÃÂÂ of the festival. It is accompanied by a procession of people chanting bhajans and shlokas and songs, with the idol. People seek forgiveness for the mistakes they have done so far and request the god to help them stay on the righteous path. Ganesha is thanked for visiting the home/locality, for being removing obstacles from people¢ÃÂÂs path, and for the auspiciousness he bestows. Farewell Procession The farewell procession, or Ganesh Visarjan, is the grand culmination of the festival. This is the celebration in which the installed idols of the god are immersed in a water body. The immersion might be done in the nearest pond, lake, river, or sea. Those who do not have access to a large water body might also do symbolic immersions in by dipping the idol in a small vessel or water barrel at home. The idol is taken from the place of installation ¢ÃÂÂ home or public pandals ¢ÃÂÂ to the water body in a huge procession accompanied by devotees singing bhajans or songs. Depending on the size of the idol, it may be carried on the shoulders of either the head of the family or a symbolic head of the area, or taken on a wooden carrier, or in a vehicle. All these proceedings are accompanied by chants of Ganapati bapa moriya, bhajans, dance, and distribution of prasad and flowers. List of Monthly Holidays 2022 Why Are Ganesha Statues Immersed in Water on the Last Day of the Festival? Ganesh Visarjan symbolises the end of the festival as well as the fact that everything on Earth eventually merges with one or more of the elements of nature. It also indicates the birth cycle of Lord Vinayak ¢ÃÂÂ he was born from clay and returns to the elements in that form.
